

COMMITTEE REPORT
NO RESOLUTIONSVOTE ON THE QUESTION WAS NINE TO TWO.

Two Thousand Delegates Were Present When the Annual Meeting of The League of Republican Clubs Convened—President Tracy Delivers His Address.

Cleveland, June 20.—The committee on resolutions decided not to report the currency resolutions to the republican league by a vote of nine to two. The eighth annual convention convened in music hall yesterday with 2,000 delegates in the auditorium and galleries filled with people.

After prayer by the Rev. S. L. Darsie, Secretary Humphrey read the roll and addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Robert E. McKisson and President D. D. Woodmansee of the Ohio League of Republican Clubs. President Tracy of Chicago then delivered the annual address. Among other remarks were the following:

"It is our work to elect, not select, candidates, and promote, not promulgate, platforms. Party platforms and party candidates must have the approval of the people, but to insure victory in the next campaign we must prepare to meet organization with organization." He criticized the democratic leaders for their lack of statesmanship, claiming that the currency question had been brought forward to blind the eyes of the people to the serious blunders committed. Of the policy of protection to our industries he said that under it the country had developed as no other country in the history of nations, and that the threatened free trade had brought ruin to thousands of American homes. On the currency question itself, he said: "There can be no disagreement as to the enlarged use of silver. There are few or none who are not in favor of this. The question is, How can it best be brought about? The people of this country want more money, but only on one condition, and that is that it be sound and current the world over."

"The record of the republican party proves that it has always been in favor of increasing the currency in keeping with the demands of the country, but only on the basis that the purchasing and debt-paying power of a dollar, whether of silver or gold, shall at all times be kept equal. This entire question as to the future use of silver will probably be settled by the great commercial nations of the world within a year. Germany and France are seeking bimetalism and England is fast turning in that direction. What the people should do is to bring pressure to bear upon their representatives for the appointment of delegates to an international conference with power to act, and insist upon an agreement and obligation from the nations participating to maintain the ratio as there adopted.

"Finally, the great work of the republican party is the promotion and enlargement of our industries through protection and the extension of our foreign trade through reciprocity; the establishment of a bimetallic standard of money through international agreement, in which silver shall be more fully recognized; the revival of our merchant marine and the creation of a system of irrigation for the reclamation of arid lands."

The secretary announced that there were represented at the convention forty-six states and territories, a larger number than has been represented at any previous convention of the league. Among the delegates were a number of ladies, four from Colorado, one from New York, two from Washington, and three from Illinois, the latter representing the Woman's league clubs in that state. The ladies from Colorado lost no opportunity to do missionary work in favor of the free coinage of silver. The American College league has ten delegates present.

When Secretary Humphrey called the roll of states to ascertain the number of delegates and alternates it was ascertained that the states could report only those present and not the number to which they are entitled. This was against the silver men, whose delegations were not as full as those of other states.

It is conceded on all sides that the plank of 1892 will go through by a large majority and several of the more radical silver men say that they will plainly tell the convention that failure to recognize the white metal will lose the party the western states next year.

The selection of Milwaukee as the place for holding the convention next year has been received with great satisfaction by the delegates. Chauncey M. Depew is down for a speech at the big league banquet to-night, but it is doubtful whether he will attend.

The feature of the day was the silver fight before the committee on resolutions. The organization was against the silver men, but the latter were not discouraged and opened up the fight from the start. The resolution of the silver men was offered, also other silver resolutions. The opponents of free silver, through Mr. Hunter of Missouri, offered the financial plank of 1892, also the recent Ohio plank adopted at Zanesville last month. The compromise resolution attracting much attention was presented by Senator-elect J. M. Thurston of Nebraska as follows:

"We approve the declaration of the last republican national convention that the American people from tradition and interest favor bimetalism and the republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as a standard money with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal, and refer the question for a more specific declaration to the next republican national convention, which alone has the power to bind the party or make platforms and declare principles."

There was no discussion of the tariff or any other issues in the committee and no differences of opinion existed except on the silver question. The silver men still have confidence in their strength among the delegates, although a majority of the committee is against them.

H. Clay Evans of Tennessee moved to refer all resolutions to the committee on resolutions without debate, which motion prevailed. A meeting of the presidents of state leagues was announced for 9 a. m. to-day. At 1 p. m. the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock to-day to give the committees time to work.

The committee on resolutions is composed of one delegate from each state represented.

The silver men from Colorado, Utah, Arizona, Washington, Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho and New Mexico held a meeting and decided to act as a unit on the silver question. It is stated that Senator Dubois will introduce a strong free coinage resolution at the convention. When the committee on resolutions re-assembled at 8 p. m. a sub-committee was appointed to draft the resolutions. The full committee heard arguments on the silver question, pro and con, for hours before the sub-committee went into an all-night executive session to prepare a report to be made to the committee this evening.

A mass meeting was held at night in Music hall at which prominent orators made addresses. The Hon. A. B. Cummins of Iowa presented an argument in favor of party allegiance to protection, and said that the tariff formed the corner stone and only safety of the workingmen of America. Upon the silver question he said the Republican party stood firmly upon the principles laid down in the Minneapolis platform—that every dollar in circulation should have an equal purchasing power, and favored a ratio of 16 to 1.

Senator-elect John M. Thurston of Nebraska delivered the most stirring speech of the meeting. He discussed the tariff and said that the Republican party would never rest until the question was settled and until every furnace fire was rekindled and until commerce once more regained its former activity. Senator Thurston said he knew whereof he spoke when he stated that Nebraska would give a majority of 50,000 for the Republican ticket next year on the old Republican financial platform. He made an argument against the unlimited coinage of silver and declared the passage of such a law would be a calamity to the country second only to free trade.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, president of the Woman's Republican League of the United States, was next introduced. She created quite a stir in her closing appeal for free silver. She recommended the western Republicans to stand by the party as long as the party favored bimetalism, as that was the party's record. She said the Republicans of the west were more conservative on the silver question than the Republicans of Pennsylvania and other states on the tariff.

THE IMPERIAL YACHT
ENTERS THE CANALGREAT CROWDS CHEER THE EMPEROR AT BRUNSBUTTEL

The Hohenzollern Goes In at the Western Gate Amid the Applause of the People—His Majesty Bowled His Thanks For the Ovation—Fine Weather at Kiel

Brunsbüttel, June 20.—The Imperial Yacht, Hohenzollern, with the Emperor and Princess aboard entered the western gate of the Baltic canal amid great cheering and enthusiasm this morning. His majesty was on deck and bowed his thanks.

Kiel, June 20.—The weather is magnificent and there are great crowds here and much enthusiasm.

Kiel, June 20.—After the labors of eight years and an expenditure of about 150,000,000 marks ($38,500,000) the great canal which joins the Baltic Sea to the German ocean is ready for use. It intersects the peninsula of Schleswig-Holstein from Brunsbüttel, near the mouth of the Elbe river, to Hohenau, on the Kiel bay and opposite that city, a distance of about fifty-nine miles. The whole canal is lighted by electricity, said to be the longest distance in the world illuminated continuously that way. The light furnished is powerful enough to enable navigators to plainly discern the route by night. The time required for the passage of the whole canal, including delay at the two locks, will average thirteen hours. Provision is made for vessels to get out of the way of large ships of war which may be passing through the canal. The piers of the two permanent bridges which cross the canal have casemated buttresses attached, each capable of holding 400 soldiers, and portholes for guns wrought into the masonry in times of war would be used to prevent the enemy's passage.

There was a heavy downfall of rain in the morning, and for a time it seemed to jeopardize the success of the fetes. Happily the clouds cleared away and brilliant sunshine, accompanied by a pleasant breeze, followed. The whole city presents a strikingly effective appearance. The flags of all nations were hoisted along the Alster at noon and the sentries at the door of the principal hotels denoted the presence there of the imperial guests. Naturally the chief center of attraction was the seaport, where the display of warships attracted many thousands of spectators. Those of the United States, Great Britain, Italy and Austria were especially admired. At 8 o'clock the war vessels of the fourteen nations represented here hoisted their flags to the strains of the anthems of their respective countries. The Mars hoisted the flag of Admiral Knorr and the latter subsequently, accompanied by the commanders of the foreign squadrons and many officers of various nations, started for Hamburg to meet the emperor.

After the formal reception to the emperor, a banquet commenced in the banquet hall, which is still unfinished, of the newly built Rathaus. At the banquet, after the toasts, the burgomaster, Dr. Lehmann, attired in a black gown with white ruffles, arose and addressed the emperor and the other sovereigns. The emperor returned thanks in an uncommonly guarded manner. His reply was mild and careful and of comparative shortness.

The empress arrived here at 8 o'clock last evening and was met by Prince Henry of Prussia, her brother-in-law. Salutes in her honor were fired in the harbor. As her majesty drove to the Schloss, where she will temporarily reside, she was enthusiastically cheered by the crowds in the streets. She hopes to be well enough to share in the fetes here.

The resolutions also demand the enactment of laws having for their object the arbitration of disputes between employer and employee. Frank Bacon of Wilton Junction was nominated for governor.

NAB BANK ROBBERS
IN THE VERY ACT

CLEVER CAPTURE AT COLORADO SPRINGS, COL.

Attempt to Hold Up the Employees of the Exchange National Institution Results in the Bandits Walking Into the Arms of the Waiting Officers—Criminal News.

Colorado Springs, Col., June 20.—A daring attempt to hold up and rob the Exchange National bank occurred at 12:45 yesterday, and as a result, four men are now under lock and key, three of whom with long prospective terms at Canon City in view.

The hold-up scheme was hatched about a week ago by Fred George, "Ed" Hutch, "Mike" Kennedy and Robert McFarland. It was originally intended that the raid should take place last Monday, but it was postponed until yesterday. In the meantime Hugh betrayed the scheme to the sheriff. George went into the bank with a gun leveled at Assistant Cashier Heron, followed by Hutch, who started to go behind the glass partition. Cashier Heron had been anticipating the raid. He immediately dropped down behind the counter and pressed the electric burglar alarm.

Concealed in the bank were Sheriff Frank Bowers and a number of his deputies, all armed to the teeth. George and Hutch were so quickly covered from all sides by officers with guns that they surrendered without firing a shot.

Kennedy was stationed outside to sound the danger warning, while McFarland was in charge of a fast team of horses and a light wagon near the entrance of the bank, in which the robbers intended to escape after securing the booty. The men are all residents of Colorado Springs, and George, who is conducted to a livery stable here.

OLNEY'S DEMAND OF SPAIN.

Mora Claim Letter Written the Day He Assumed Office.

Washington, June 20.—On the day Richard Olney, secretary of state, received his commission from President Cleveland he wrote a long and diplomatically peremptory letter to Spain demanding the immediate payment of $1,500,000 which Spain has owed Antonio Maximo Mora, an American citizen, since 1886.

Mr. Olney's demand upon the Spanish government was sent through Hannis Taylor, United States minister to Madrid, and was backed up by a cable message of advice. The letter was received by Spain yesterday.

Secretary Olney declines to discuss the matter but it is known positively that Hannis Taylor, the United States minister to Spain, was instructed to insist on a speedy settlement by the Spanish government in conformity with the action of congress.

The matter of aggressive action has been brought to the attention of the state department by one of its officials in the form of a suggestion, said to have been made without great seriousness at first, that the pathway pointed out by congress should be followed in the direction of Cuba, where Mora's seized plantations are situated, and the amount of the claim should be collected in the manner adopted by Great Britain in its recent troubles with Nicaragua. It is not supposed that this suggestion has been seriously considered.

CLAIMS BOLLN IS ALL RIGHT.

Representative of the Bondholders Denies Treasurer Is a Defaulter.

Omaha, Neb., June 20.—The checking up of the city treasurer's books was resumed yesterday. Thomas Swobe, who is managing the office for the bondholders during the investigation, is positive in stating that there is no defalcation and states that the worst is that the office has been loosely run in the matter of handling the cash. Treasurer Bolln, he states, simply followed the example of his predecessors in cashing city time checks and advancing salaries to city employees. He had also advanced money to himself, putting due bills in the drawer to take the place of cash, and while this was all wrong Mr. Swobe said he did not consider it criminal, and the investigation had not developed any indication that either Mr. Bolln or any of the employees had been trying to conceal anything or take money secretly, or without charging it to themselves.

COL. RUGER NAMED BY THE COUNCIL

MADE CHANCELLOR OF THE MILWAUKEE DIOCESE.

Rev. A. H. Barrington Chosen as Chairman of the Division of the Diocese Committee While Rev. W. H. Wotton is a Member of the Committee on State of the Church.

Janesville people took quite a prominent part in the proceedings of the Episcopal Diocesan council at Milwaukee, which convened in annual session yesterday afternoon, and adjourned to meet next year in Madison.

Colonel William Ruger was elected chancellor of the diocese by the council, he having been serving in that capacity since the death of Moses M. Strong, who was the first chancellor. Colonel Ruger was appointed to act in that capacity by the bishop, at Mr. Strong's death, but the permanent selection had to be made by the council. The duties are in the nature of legal adviser of the bishop. The diocese was shown to be in a flourishing condition, with eighty-seven clergymen in active service, and a probability that the number would soon be over ninety. A deficit of $1,000 on the endowment fund, which was caused by the non-payment of interest, was reported as was also a deficit of $200 in the diocesan mission fund, but the latter amount was practically raised before the council adjourned.

Rev. Mr. Barrington is Chairman. Among the most important subjects considered yesterday was the question of dividing the diocese. The Milwaukee diocese is too large a territory and it is almost impossible for the bishop to visit all the parishes during the year. The result of the discussion was the appointment of a special committee on the division of the diocese, of which Rev. Arthur H. Barrington was made chairman.

Col. Ruger was made a member of the board of missions and a delegate to the General Episcopal convention which will meet in Minneapolis in October next, as well as a member of the committee on canons, while Rev. W. H. Wotton, was appointed a member of the committee on state of the church and Rev. Arthur Barrington was appointed on the committee on memorials.

A resolution was adopted congratulating Bishop Nicholson upon the work he has done during the past year. After the reading of the report of the Committee on Diocesan missions by the Rev. C. L. Mallory, the fact was recalled that the Episcopal diocese of Milwaukee was founded in June, 1847. A resolution was, therefore adopted to provide and arrange for the proper celebration of the event in 1897.

Women Cannot Vote. The question of permitting women to vote in parish affairs called forth quite an animated discussion. Bishop Nicholson rather favored such a move, a majority of the lay delegates and a large number of the clerical delegates were in favor of it. The question was carried by a small majority, but as a majority of the clergy were opposed to the innovation, it was lost, the carrying of any motion necessitating a majority of both the clergy and the laity. It was argued by some of those opposed to the innovation that the right to vote implied the right to hold office, the right to hold office may include the right to hold ministerial offices, and that was entirely contrary to the spirit of the Episcopal church, which excluded women from the ministry.

CHICAGO HORSE MARKET DULL.

Local Dealers are Afraid To Ship Animals To Market.

A local dealer, who has just returned from a trip to the Chicago horse market, says that in all his years of experience he has never seen the demand for "fair drivers" so dull. A Rockford dealer took down twenty-nine head of horses to sell five weeks ago and is there still, with twenty head left. Edward Gardner, who has bought horses in Janesville for the past six years, took down sixteen head of horses which he purchased in Rock county. The highest price that was paid was $142 50 for an animal that would have brought $400 three years ago. Very few buyers come, but still the animals are being sent to the market by the carload to be sold at any price.

SPRING BROOK NEWS IN A LINE OR TWO

JACKSON STREET BRIDGE NEEDS REPAIRS.

Residents Are Glad the Council Are Going to Rebuild It—Hay Harvest Is Now In Progress—"Civilization's Advance" Cuts Into the Pasture Lands—Other Items.

SPRING Brook people are much pleased at the action of the common council in planning to repair the Jackson Street bridge as they say that the structure is sadly in need of rebuilding and its safety means much to them. It is their chief avenue to the city and if it was closed it would make them untold trouble. Its weakness was plainly shown last evening when a herd of fifteen cattle were driven over the structure and it was plainly seen to weave back and forth and tremble. A number of the piles have settled several inches since they were driven and in consequence the bridge sags a foot or more in many places.

SINCE the growth of the lower part of the Fourth and Fifth wards, the pastures that have been used by those residing in that vicinity for years, have been gradually cut into building lots until, in consequence, the numerous pasture lands about the Spring Brook addition have been in great demand. One resident says he counted forty head of cattle passing over the Jackson street bridge inside of an hour's time, returning from their day's feeding to their stalls on the opposite side of the river.

THE marsh hay that grows on the marshes in the Spring Brook addition is being eagerly sought by persons who may be seen these mornings, at work cutting it, near the Jackson street bridge. G. L. Carrington owns most of the land bordering on the river, and persons who have harvested on these lots have obtained his permission, but many have gone, they say, where they have had but little right to be.

ABOUT thirty friends responded to invitations issued by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cody at their James Place home, Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served in the early evening, while dancing formed the principal amusement. Keyfield and Meyers orchestra furnished excellent music and it was 3 o'clock before the guests departed.

ONE of the streets that has been greatly benefited by Street Commissioner Watson's work, is Eastern avenue. A number of loads of broken stone have been hauled upon it, and clay spread on top.

In the small streams that branch from the river numerous fish are being caught, mostly of the bass variety. These fine evenings the rail-road bridge is lined with fishermen and some large catches are reported.

By an actual count there are fifteen whole windows left in the vacated Spring Brook foundry and the small boys' destructive proclivities are about satisfied. They broke about thirty windows.

MR. and Mrs. N. E. Spicer and son Roy and Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Samuels have returned from a pleasant fishing trip to Lake Koshkonong, where they enjoyed fine sport.

THE Spring Brook Whirlwinds, a well known base ball organization, practice daily on the diamond with the hopes of making a good showing this summer.

A NUMBER who bought lots in Spring Brook addition for speculation, are planting them, this year to potatoes.

GEORGE VINAY has recovered from a severe sprain of his right hand received while attending a horse.

PLANS are being drawn for two more dwelling which will soon be erected on McKee boulevard.

Excursion to the World Famed Dells of Wisconsin.

This country has a great variety of wonderful scenery, but none more beautiful and romantic than the famous Wisconsin Dells at Kilbourn, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. There is nothing anywhere within civilized lines to equal the grandeur of the weird scenery bounding for a stretch of seven miles, from Kilbourn northward on the Wisconsin river. Its bold, rocky outlines towering skyward, assume shapes in conformation perfectly amazing. It canons and witch's gulch are features never to be forgotten, for there is nothing like them in America. Do not fail to enroll yourself as one of the great number who will take advantage of the excursion to this resort on Wednesday, June 26, over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. The fare for the round trip, which also covers the steamboat trip on the river, is but two dollars.

Must Go West or Starve.

Francis W. Breed, of Lynn, Mass., one of the largest shoe manufacturers in the country, having factories in Lynn, Athol, Rochester, N. M., and other places, takes an unfavorable view of the future of the shoe industry in the east, holding out that such cities as Lynn, Haverhill, Brockton, and other famous centers, cannot much longer hold their own against the competition of the west. He said: "The west has captured the shoe business formerly held in New England, and that isn't the worst of it; it is going to hold it. Why? Because the western manufacturer can get labor so much cheaper than we can. I have seen labor that in this section would command $2 a day work for $6 a week in many a western factory. The manufacturer of cheap shoes in New England will have to move west if he wants to continue in the business."

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

THE Concordia concert picnic will occur on Sunday, June 23. Smith's full orchestra will furnish concert music all the afternoon with singing by the Concordia Male Quartette. The first boat leaves at 10 a. m. and both steamers, Columbia and Mayflower, will make alternate trips during the afternoon, the first boat leaving at 1 p. m. The fair for the round trip is 25 cents, children 15 cents. Tickets good on either boat.

THINK of what it costs to make up clothing! Did you ever buy cloth, trimmings, etc., and start to make your boys some clothes? Before you have finished, you have expended twice the amount we ask you for the best boy's suit ever brought to the city, $2 and $3. They fit, too. We have such a large assortment of sizes that we can fit any shape or sized boy from four to fourteen years of age. Frank H. Baack.

We want your trade, and we want your friendship. We have the shoes that will capture both, and the price will insure future patronage. At fifty cents on the dollar, shoes should go into every household in Rock county. We are headed strongly that way, and before we get through we will come pretty nearly reaching this mark. Becker & Woodruff.

You wonder how we can do it and its perfectly natural that you should. We were very fortunate in securing a large quantity of boys suits at a low figure and to close them out quickly have made you the price of $2 and $3 for any of the garments. We realize that money is still very close and want to give you the benefit of this almost cost sale. Frank H. Baack.

Do your feet feel comfortable? If they don't why do you not avail yourself of the best opportunity in the history of shoe trade in the city and procure a pair of comfortable shoes? Any style, any kind and as comfortable as possible to make them. At fifty cents on the dollar they are cheap, very cheap, in price. Becker & Woodruff.

OUR special drive on those $2 and $3 suits is taking wonderfully. Parents can't help but see the force of our argument, we not only make you these boys' suits at this low figure but also reduce every garment in our children's department to correspond in price. The buckboard goes free just the same. Frank H. Baack.

THE demand was much greater than the supply on those buckboards we are giving away with every boys' suit, and we were obliged to order more. The boys all like them and why shouldn't they? A one dollar toy free, just for the purchase of one of those $2 or $3 suits, ought to please anybody. Frank H. Baack.

WHEN you can buy a ladies' white kid Oxford, made by one of the best factories in the country, for a dollar, why, it's almost like finding a pair. If you don't get a pair, it won't be our fault. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

Repartee.

"Now, what do you want?" asked the sharp-nosed woman.

"I called to see if I couldn't sell you some bakin' powder," said the seedy gentleman with the straggling whiskers.

"Well, you can't sell no bakin' powder here, and I ain't got no time to waste on peddlers, any way."

"Come to think of it, ma'am," said the seedy gentleman, as he fastened his valise, "I wouldn't keer to sell you no powder. This here little dinky kitchen of yours is so low in the ceilin' that the bread wouldn't have no chance to rise."—Indianapolis Journal.

Diplomatic.

Watts—Hello! You've let your typewriter go, I see.

Potts—Yes. She was too ignorant. Could not spell at all.

"Did she get mad when you told her she had to go?"

"Oh, no. I gave as my reason for parting with her that she was so pretty that the clerks couldn't attend to their work for staring at her."—Cincinnati Tribune.

Urging Her On.

"Roberta," said the emancipated woman to her daughter, "I can see a thing or two. You are in love with Charles Wetherill."

"Well, mamma, suppose I am?"

"Then why don't you pluck up courage to propose before some other woman gets him? He's the very best cook in the town and he has money in his own right."—Judge.

How They Could Tell.

"I can always tell when my husband has been drinking," said a young wife.

"Yes," said another young wife.

"Yes. I know it the moment he kisses me."

"I can also tell when my husband has been drinking," said the other.

"Yes?"

"Yes; then he doesn't kiss me."

Harry—When a woman is mad with you, you are likely to hear some plain truth from her.

"No."

The Only Remedy in the World that Refunds Purchase Price if it Fails to Cure the Tobacco
Habit in 4 to 10 Days is

Narcoti-Cure

It Cures while You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age!

A certain, pleasant, permanent cure.

A lifetime's suffering ended for $5.

Why sm ke and spit your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn and drains on your vital forces?

Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way

Drive the nicotine from your system by use of this wonderful remedy.

Narcoti cure is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigarette and Pipe smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hankering" and "craving" will disappear—the weed won't taste good.

Then throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and new vigor to the weakest constitution.

Remember Narcoti-Cure doesn't deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's treatment; and finally, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of tablet chewing.

With Narcoti-Cure, when you are through with tobacco you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures.

Send for book of prominent testimonials like the following:

HUNTINGTON, Mass. Mar. 18, 1895.
The Narcoti Chemical Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals. On Monday, February 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure which I used as directed and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing.

Very respectfully,

CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

Mr. Frank H. Morton, of Chicopee Falls, Mass. late Inspector of Public Buildings for Massachusetts, says:

I used tobacco for twenty-five years, and was a confirmed smoker. In just eight days treatment with Narcoti-Cure I was through with tobacco, in fact the desire vanished like a dream.

Very respectfully,

FRANK H. MORTON.

If your druggist is unable to give full particulars about Narcoti-Cure, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for bottle by mail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1483—Richard, duke of Gloucester, proclaimed king as Richard III.
1530—First session of the famous Augsburg diet called by Charles V to settle the religious disputes of Germany.
1810—Matthew Simpson, M. E. bishop, born in Cadiz, O.; died in Philadelphia 1884.
1837—William IV of England died; accession of his niece SANTA ANNA, Victoria.
1876—Santa Anna, general, dictator, president, etc., of Mexico for many years, died at his estate of Mango Clavo; born 1795. Santa Anna had fought against three Mexican rulers before he was elected president in 1833. He became dictator in 1835, and while attempting to subdue the revolutionary state of Texas was defeated and captured. His life thereafter was full of adventure. After a term of forced exile he became general in chief, then president. The results of the war with the United States again sent him into exile, but he was recalled and appointed dictator for life. His despotic use of power led to a third banishment.

Governor Upham's visit to New York with the New state board of immigration, promises good results to the state, and is in line with the good business policy adopted by the chief executive. The tribute paid to the "honest Germans and Scandinavians" by the governor is fully appreciated by the people throughout the state, who have long since recognized the fact that these two classes of sturdy immigrants readily develop loyal citizenship and contribute largely to the stability and prosperity of the commonwealth.

When it is considered that seventy per cent. of the voting population of the state are foreigners, Wisconsin has reason for congratulation, for the fact is well established, that for general prosperity, thrift, enterprise and morality, the state takes rank with the best in the union.

The foreigner who comes to this country to better his condition, possessed with the idea of becoming an American citizen, can find no better state than Wisconsin. The diversity of industry is greater than any other state in the union, and the opportunities for success are unrivaled. With these facts Governor Upham is familiar. His work for the state will be heartily indorsed by all good citizens.

People who are clamoring for more silver and free coinage, should profit by the experience of Brazil. During her trouble she wanted more money, and $375,000,000 in paper currency was ground out, backed by a gold reserve of $106,000,000. Brazil possesses great wealth and vast resources, and the new government money was supposed to be worth par as soon as issued, but much to the disappointment of the people it was worth about forty cents. America will have a similar experience with debased coin if the 16 to 1 free silver doctrine ever become a law.

It is reported that a combination of western silver mine owners and eastern capitalists is carrying a stock of about $60,000,000 worth of silver bullion, bought at an average of seventy cents per ounce, on which it expects to double its money by congressional aid in establishing free coinage on a 16 to 1 basis. There is nothing like taking time by the forelock, but the combination is likely to get left.

Secretary Carlisle is making it lively for the free silver democrats in Kentucky. The outlook is encouraging for a breach in the party that will result in placing that state in the republican column.

The Savannah News is authority for the statement that the orange crop of Florida, while almost a total failure, represents but one twelfth of the product of the state, and that all other crops are in a flourishing condition.

The work laid out by Governor Altgeld at the extra session of the Illinois legislature next week, will keep that noted body in session all summer.

Oklahoma has abandoned corner lots and now claims a gold find. It is about time that much overestimated section produced something of value.

The government deficit for the fiscal year ending July 1 will be close to $50,000,000.

The most pleasant little pills for regulating the bowels, are Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers. Cure sick headache and constipation. Small pill. Small dose. C. D. Stevens.

To Be Kept Before The People.

The Early Settlers society do not want to elight anybody in the entire county and wish to have the fact thoroughly established both in the minds of all members of the society and also their friends that on Tuesday, June 25, (that's next week) there will be held at Crystal Springs Park, three miles up Rock river, the biggest basket picnic ever planned by any society and also that the most enjoyable time possible has been arranged for. The programme which is now complete, embodies the best talent the city affords, musical and otherwise, and this with the reunion of dear old friends, will make a day that will go down into history as a most complete success. The entrance fee at the road gate 10 cents, and the steamboat fare, 25 cents the round trip, is so moderate, that it will allow everybody to attend. Don't forget the date, next Tuesday, June 25.

This work must be completed on or before the first day of August, and a true and accurate enumeration delivered to the county clerk. Every person over twenty years of age who shall refuse to answer any question which may be lawfully put to him by the clerk or census taker shall forfeit twenty-five dollars. Every county clerk, or assistant appointed, who shall neglect or refuse to perform the duties required of him in taking or returning the census, after having accepted such office or appointment, shall forfeit $250.

Paid For The Work. City Clerk Badger will be paid at the rate of $1.50 for every 100 persons enumerated, and the same for every 100 persons lawfully enrolled in the militia by them respectively, and the same for every 100 persons by them enumerated who served in the United States army or navy during the war. Town clerks and assistants appointed by the county clerk shall be paid at the rate of $3 for every 100 persons enumerated by them, and $1.50 for every 100 persons enrolled in the militia and the same for ex-soldiers and sailors. County clerks are also compensated for making returns to the secretary of state, and each clerk, assistant and county clerk shall receive in addition to compensation above 25 per cent of the amount thereof for the enumeration of the inhabitants and services in collecting and returning the statistics, which shall be in full of all services required of him under the provisions of the law. Forfeiture of 5 per cent of compensation is provided for when any clerk or his assistant fails to make his returns in time.

Secretary of State in Charge. The work is under the supervision of the secretary of state, but is done directly by the town, village and city clerks, who report to the county clerk, and he to the secretary of state, in whose office the returns are compiled into one report. It is provided that duplicate copies of the enumeration of the inhabitants, enrollment of the militia and ex-soldiers and sailors and the various statistical lists, duly attested by county clerks, must be filed in the office of the secretary of state on or before August 20. All villages regularly incorporated under the statutes of the state, having a village organization will be listed by the clerks of such villages. If not incorporated, the town clerk will act as enumerator therefore, keeping separate from the town list of inhabitants.

The secretary of state is directed to have printed 10,000 copies of the tabulated enumeration, fifty copies of which he is to deliver to each member of the legislature, one copy to each county, town, city and village clerk. He is also required to deposit with the superintendent of public property 1,000 copies for the use of the next legislature.

BURGLARS AT WORK BUT GET NO BOOTY

TWO JANESTILL PLACES VISITED LAST NIGHT.

Thieves Were Frightened Away From M. H. Soverhill's House When Mrs. Soverhill Lighted the Gas—Dr. Gish's Office Ransacked—Other Police News.

Bungling burglars and unskilled sneak thieves seem to be making Janesville their headquarters just at present.

An attempt was made last night to burglarize the residence of M. H. Soverhill, at the corner of Washington and Ravine streets. Mrs. Soverhill, who sleeps down stairs, heard someone early this morning working at the back windows. She got up, and could plainly hear two or three men working with tools. Then she lighted the gas and called to W. Conklin, who rooms in the house. The light and noise frightened the thieves away. The police are of the opinion that they might have been the same parties that entered Mr. Jackson's home a few nights ago, and if they are not greatly mistaken, the right parties will soon be in jail.

Dr. S. H. Gish was somewhat surprised this morning on reaching his dental office, 11 West Milwaukee street, to find the office door open, and the fixtures scattered around. It was evident to him that burglars had been in his rooms, and he set himself at work taking an inventory. So far only a pair of gold bowed spectacles were found to be missing. The door was opened with a skeleton key, the lock showing that the visitors had to do considerable work before the lock responded.

"Patsy" Griffin Locked Up.

"Patsy" Griffin created a little sensation in the municipal court this morning when he was confronted by a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct. "Patsy" pleaded not guilty, and informed the court that he was ready for trial, whereupon Patrolman Hogan took the witness box, but before he concluded his testimony "Patsy" became convinced of his guilt and took his sentence, which was ten days.

"I will get blind drunk before I cross the bridge, if I have to go down for ten days," he exclaimed. "Then you may get ten days more," remarked the judge.

"I don't care if it is Waupun," I tell you I will get blind drunk before I cross the bridge."

"You may find another charge of common drunkard" lodged against you," chimed in Patrolman Hogan.

"Don't care what charge you'll bring against me. I'll get blind drunk before I cross the bridge," insisted Patsy.

"It may be all right to bring a charge of that kind against him now," remarked the judge.

Patsy cooled down and quietly walked out under the escort of Patrolman Hogan, who piloted him down to the Appleby house, but at Nelson Brothers' barn he halted.

"I'll get blind drunk before I cross the bridge," he insisted; but he didn't get a chance.

Simons Sent To Jail.

William Simons, who was arrested by Patrolman Hogan on South Acad emy street yesterday, while drunk, disorderly, engaged in flourishing an ax, and acting at times as though he wanted to chop somebody, was brought into the municipal court this morning charged with being in the condition mentioned. He pleaded guilty, and was sent down to the Appleby house for five days.

William Dillon, the complaining witness in the assault and battery case of the state against George Brown, failed to materialize this morning when the case was called in the municipal court, and Brown was discharged.

Turnkey Ray North arrested James Cox on Pleasant street yesterday afternoon, he being notified by telephone that Cox was raising a disturbance.

E. F. Gaff of Beloit was taken to the Waukesha Keeley cure by Sheriff Appleby today.

SEASONABLE NOVELTIES.

Durability of Spun Glass as a Dress Material.

Among the novelties announced is a cloth of glass, one kind made entirely from the filaments of spun glass and another with a warp of glass and a weft of silk. The inventor, a Frenchman, anticipates a great future for this material, but its weight and its cost are both against it. The price of the pure glass cloth is $20 a yard, but it is so durable that it will last a lifetime and can be cleaned by merely wiping it with a damp cloth. This would seem to be an ideal fabric for a rainy day gown for a busy woman; but, then, busy women who have to be out in all weathers cannot afford to pay $20 a yard for their best gowns, much less for their rough and ready ones, and women who can afford to pay that price do not care to have their dresses last after the novelty is off them.

One great improvement in artificial floral decorations now noticeable is that the various blossoms are accompanied by their appropriate foliage, instead of being either destitute of any at all or grouped with strange and wonderful productions hitherto unknown in the annals of botany.

Now that hoopskirts are being worn in sleeves it is not inapt to quote a maxim from a late Parisian paper, "The authority of fashion is so nearly absolute that it compels us to be ridiculous in order to avoid appearing so."

Boots with small, square toes are preferred by women who keep up with the latest fancy of fashion. They have been seen here for some time, but do not seem to have gained particular favor.

An illustration is given of a race toilet of black satin and satin grosgrain. The black godet skirt is plain. The corsage of satin grosgrain is covered with full black mousseline de sole and has a swiss garble of black satin edged with jet. A band of satin edged with jet is tied across the bosom in a large bow held by a silver buckle. The sleeves have a balloon puff, with a close caplet trimmed with jet, and deep, tight cuffs.

A NEW BEAUTIFIER.

The Electric Current as a Flesh Producer, Fashion Notes.

A recent writer declares that electricity is a cure for most of the minor troubles that flesh is heir to, and that a slight faradic current applied morning and evening to the face, neck and shoulders will increase the flesh and greatly improve the complexion. A mild current undoubtedly acts as a pleasant tonic, and as it stimulates the circulation there is every reason to believe that such a local application would make a thick, defective complexion clearer and give it color. Small batteries—what are called "pocket" editions—can be obtained at any electrical supply shop, and these little batteries are not capable of a current strong enough to be injurious. They are easily managed and far better in their effect than cosmetics and washes. The faradic current is the one to be used for beautifying purposes and should be of the mildest when applied to the face, neck and chest. For the rest of the body, especially the spine, it may be stronger. The treatment should be regular and continuous, extending over at least a month.

Waterproof capes are coming in again. One recently issued by a Parisian house is of waterproof serge and reaches to the foot of the skirt. It is plaited at the back and in front, with arm slits under the front folds. Over the shoulders is a short, rippled pelerine of three graduated ruffles edged with ribbon.

Birds and wings are rapidly retiring from fashionable favor and are now seldom seen save upon cheap hats, and those not up to date. Artificial wings of gauze, jet, tinsel or lace are preferred, and ostrich plumes leave nothing to be desired in the way of feathers.

The illustration shows a Greco-Roman coiffure which more nearly approaches the classical style than do most Parisian hair fashions, although the erect look savors of anachronism. The hair is parted in the middle, a portion being arranged above the forehead, while the rest is drawn to the back of the head and arranged in a torse. The ornaments are a gold fillet, with ivy leaves and berries.

Omaha Tribal Circle.

A curious feat of engineering is recorded by that careful observer, Rev. J. O. Dorsey, regarding the Omaha tribal circle. He says: "The circle was not made by measurement, nor did any one give directions where each tent should be placed; that was left to the women. Though they did not measure the distance, each woman knew where to pitch her tent." She also knew the proper distance apart for safety on the one hand or for the convenience of dressing hides on the other.—Third Am. Reps. Bureau Ethnology, Washington.

A Most Magnificent Heirloom

Is health. No gem in tiara or coronet is so precious. Per contra, a hereditary tendency to disease, often proves a fatal legacy, since the most trifling causes may fertilize the latest germs of ill health, and render the fruitage deadly. An inherent transmitted weakness of the physical constitution is more effectually opposed and counteracted by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other safeguard. Digestion and assimilation promoted, due biliary secretion, action of the kidneys and bowels insured, are so many guarantees of permanent health, and these are the consequences, among others, of like insurance, of a resort to the Bitters. This medicine also prevents and remedies malarious complaints, nervousness, chronic insomnia, rheumatism and neuralgia. Such warnings as loss of appetite and sleep, too, should not be disregarded. The Bitters will restore both without fail.

ASLEEP AS SHE WALKS.

An Unusually Pronounced Case of Somnambulism in Denver.

Anna Rossman, a beautiful woman about 22 years old, was found walking the streets of Denver in a somnambulist condition on a recent afternoon, says the Rocky Mountain News. An Italian fruit vender noticed the strange conduct of the young lady near the corner of 15th and Arapahoe streets. She walked into the drug store at the mining exchange, the police were notified and the patient was taken to her home. The case is a very peculiar one, and has before been brought to the attention of the police department during the past two months. On account of the family, all mention of the matter has, until this time, been suppressed. It is evident, however, that the somnambulist tendencies of the unfortunate woman have become chronic and the peculiar features of the attack are attracting the attention of physicians. Miss Rossman formerly lived in Pueblo. There she attracted attention by her strange performances, walking about the streets apparently awake, but really asleep and totally unconscious of where she was going. Removing to Denver, the same conduct was continued, and the family then went to Cheyenne. They again came to this city and settled at the place where they now reside. It is claimed by the friends of the afflicted woman that she is possessed of supernatural powers, is gifted with second sight, and that other strange phenomena are within her control. In these spells she would attract but little attention were it not for the fact that she is utterly oblivious of passing objects and walks before carriages, street cars and other vehicles with recklessnes. Otherwise her appearance is that of a person in possession of her normal senses. A little over a month ago she was found at the union depot, and Yardmaster Pierce discovered that she was not aware of where she was. A carriage was called, she was taken to the police station, and afterward to her home. Again on the 7th of March she was found in a similar condition at the Glenarm hotel. One day when Dr. Johnson, the police surgeon, was in a restaurant, Miss Rossman walked in and the waiter thought that she was intoxicated. Grasping the situation, Dr. Johnson left his meal, took the patient's arm, and quietly walked with her to her home, Miss Rossman being all the while utterly oblivious of the notice she was occasioning from bystanders. The young lady had come from Cheyenne just before her latest sleep-walking experience, and walked from the depot to the place where it was found that she was still asleep. No information could be gained as to what she had been doing at Cheyenne or whether she had made that trip in a somnambulist state. When the ambulance came to the mining exchange Miss Rossman was taken quietly to the conveyance and realized nothing of the situation until her home was reached. She then awakened out of the deep sleep, but gave no particulars as to her sudden visit north. She is a beautiful blond, has the sympathy of all who know her in the unusual affliction which has befallen a woman who is said to be possessed of a bright mind. When these fits have passed away she knows nothing of what has transpired.

LOVELY WOMAN.

Of the new fashioned woman there's much being said,
Of her wanting to vote and a' that,
And of her desire to wear man's attire,
His coat and his vest and a' that,
And a' that and a' that,
She may wear trousers and a' that;
She may even ride a horse astride,
But a woman's a woman for a' that.

See yonder damsel passing by?
She's up to date and a' that,
She wears a man's hat, likewise his cravat,
His shirt and collar and a' that,
And a' that and a' that,
His suspenders and cuffs and a' that,
But do what she can to imitate man
A woman's a woman for a' that.

The modern maid, her form arrayed
In sweater and bloomer and a' that,
Rides a bike exactly like
What brother rides and a' that,
She may wear bloomers for skirts and a' that,
That,

Wear men's collars and shirts and a' that,
May wear vests if she will, but the fact Remains still
A woman's a woman for a' that.
—William West in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HER SECRET.

Hushed in an awful quiet was the big house, for its mistress lay sick unto death. No longer was it the abode of laughter, for tears had taken its place, and real sorrow had usurped seeming joy. Carriages still drove up, but it was over the straw covered road they came, and their occupants only tarried for inquiry.

The mistress of the house lay sick unto death, she who was so beautiful and so glad. Strange that she should be summoned when there were others, sorrow marked and stricken in years, who waited for the call and prayed it might come quickly, yet waited and prayed in vain. There were others, too, not old nor gray before their time, who might have slipped away into the unknown almost unnoticed, while this woman had so many ties to bind her to earth—her husband, her child, her relations, her legion of friends.

It was hard she should be called away so early from the rich banquet that lay spread before her.

Yet the angel of death was expected. His emissaries had arrived and told of his approach, which may not be said—nay, nor even long delayed.

The doctor, who knew too well the signs of these fateful envoys, shook his head gravely in reply to the anxious queries of those who loved her best—her sisters, her mother, her husband—but he gave no gleam of hope, for she lay in a deadly lethargy from which it had been impossible to rouse her. In vain her mother spoke to her as she had done in days long gone by, when she was yet a child. In vain her husband stood by her side and took her hand and called her by every endearment she knew so well. In vain her child clutched her breast and cried for her mother to look at her and talk to her again.

Surely if it were possible to bring her back from the edge of the grave these dear ones could do it. But there she lay, stonily impassive, with her great eyes staring into space, cold and unheeding as the sphinx. She gave no sign of life, and the hours fraught with hope sped slowly on, and each one registered a step nearer the grave.

One by one they withdrew from the chamber of death, the husband being the last to obey the doctor's orders, and now none was left in the room but the physician and the nurse—her old servant, the one upon whose knee she had climbed 20 years and more ago.

How slowly the hours passed for the watchers, and yet surely they passed too quickly—just so many hundred more vibrations of the pendulum, just a few strikings of the hour, and all would be over for her so richly endowed with all that should make life worth living.

The doctor never left her side. He sat there with his keen, observant eye fixed upon her, ready to note any change, but there she lay impassive, and the watcher could scarcely see that she breathed.

Her beauty seemed even more perfect now than he had thought it.

Absolutely faultless was the chiseling of those clear cut features. Her dark hair waved loosely around her Grecian brow and trailed across her shoulders, a fit setting for the marvelous whiteness of her face. The great violet eyes—her chief glory—were wide open, staring with terrible fixity into nothingness, or was it into the something beyond? Her lips had lost their vivid color, but this was scarcely a fault; her hands were outside the coverlet, white marble faintly marked with blue, her wedding ring the one discordant note.

For long there had been no sound in the room save the crackling of the fire and the faint ticking of the clock.

Suddenly the doctor bent eagerly forward. Her lips moved. With eagerness he listened. "Linley," she scarcely more than whispered. Then all was silence again.

The nurse rose hurriedly from her chair by the fire. She had only heard a sound.

The doctor raised his hand, and she resumed her seat. Long, long he waited, hoping for another sound of returning consciousness, but none came.

At last he came over to the nurse. "Did you hear her?"

"What did she say, sir?"

"One word only—'Linley.'"

The nurse suppressed an involuntary exclamation.

"What did it mean, nurse?"

But the woman only shook her head.

"Strange," muttered the doctor, as with knitted eyebrows he reflected and strove to catch some clue. Then he returned to the bedside. There she lay as impassive as before.

"Linley! Linley!" he kept repeating. "What did she mean?"

The nurse made no reply, but sat looking into the fire.

"Nurse, tell me," he said at length, "have you an idea what the mistress meant by that word?"

But the nurse did not or would not hear.

"Look here, nurse," continued he, "I must have an answer. You are keeping something back. Your mistress's life may hang upon you. Tell me, do you know to whom or to what she alluded?"

"I do."

"Then in heaven's name, tell me. She must be roused from her lethargy if she is to live. What did she mean?"

"Doctor, I cannot tell you."

"But you must. I insist upon it. Is that life of no consequence to you? Can you see her die and keep back what might save her life?"

"Yes."

"Then you are committing murder."

The nurse's eyes were fixed on the fire. She seemed to be seeking guidance from the flames. At last her courage failed her, and in distress she cried:

"Oh, heaven! What shall I do? I dare not."

The doctor moved up to her.

"Nurse," said he, "one thing you must do. You must tell me what you know. If you do not, your life will be made hideous and unbearable by the memory of tonight. Cannot you trust me? You know she looks upon me as a friend. The secret, if secret there be, is as safe with me as with you. You must tell me. What did she mean by Linley? Is it a man's name?"

"Yes."

The doctor glanced involuntarily at the bed. No, she could not hear; he need not have lowered his voice.

"Her lover?"

"Yes."

The clock struck, and the woman on the bed was one step nearer the unknown.

"Is this an old affair? I mean is it in the past?"

"No."

The doctor sighed. He had brought the woman into the world, and he loved her as his own child.

"What are we to do, sir?"

"What indeed, nurse?"

He rose and paced the room in his perplexity.

Linley! Who was he? Pshaw! what did it matter? The woman would most surely die unless she could be roused from her lethargy—this Linley might do it, for he was in her mind. He must be sent for if her life was to be saved. Her life! What would it be worth after that? Better death than dishonor. Let her go down to the grave leaving a spotless name, let her mother sorrow for her, let her child treasure the memory of a good mother, let her husband mourn the loss of his faithful wife. Aye, let her die. Yet dare he take this responsibility upon himself? He could save her. Of this he was confident. What had he to do with others? Saving life was his business. She must be saved. This Linley, whoever he was, must be sent for, and at once.

"Nurse, we must send for him."

But the nurse only shook her head.

"Or she will die."

"Better so, sir."

And the doctor wavered.

"Better so; aye, better so indeed. The price is too great to pay, even for life, a life of agony and dishonor. To be held in scorn by those who admired her before. To be scoffed at by those whose attentions she had not deigned to accept. To lose her mother, husband and child at one blow, and gain—what? No, a thousand times, no. Let her die."

The doctor wiped great drops of agony from his brow as he signed her death warrant.

"You are right, nurse. It is best she should die."

He threw himself into a chair, and the nurse took his place at the bedside.

"Doctor," she called out at length.

He stood beside her and noted the change.

"Call them, nurse. She will not live the hour out."

Again they stood by the side of the woman, speechless with grief. How beautiful she looked! How utterly lovely! Ch, the pity of it she must die, so young and so loved! Oh, the irony that love which should have chained her to life had been her doom.

The clock struck once again. The visitor was come, and the woman breathed her last in her husband's arms.

* * * * *

"Linley! Linley!" muttered the doctor on his way home. "I wonder who he is. I should like to let him know his villainy is known, to thrash the life out of the scoundrel, to break every bone in his body. Linley, Linley. Nurse will have to tell me who he is."

But the nurse kept her secret and did not tell him.

For it was the doctor's own son—Good Company.

MONEY MADE AT HOME.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.85; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Newkirk, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others.

Sweet Ethel.

Johnny Jenkins, aged five, is the terror of a West side block. He is regarded by the parents of the other children as an undesirable acquaintance for their young ones.

Little Ethel, aged four, was telling her mother yesterday of Johnny's latest enormity. "Why, mamma, he swore awfully. He said 'darn,'" she remarked.

"What a bad boy!" remarked the mother. "I hope my gentle little Ethel ran away when Johnny swore at her?"

"Yes, mamma," replied the sweet child; "but I knocked him down in the mud first."—Buffalo Express.

GOSSIP OF THE DAY IN TOWN

If a hen and a half cost a cent and a half what would two hens cost? You can easily tell that, but if shoes cost 65 cents on the factory cost and we sold them for one-half the factory cost, who would pay the rent? You can't tell that. We almost sometimes double the cost on what we don't always sell. You can understand that. These mental problems almost upset us over some of these hot days. ### ..A Sale of Laces..

During the past few days we have hundreds of yards of that special bargain in wash dress fabrics which we advertised and it is only fair to presume that in making up the dresses a great deal of lace will be used for trimming. We have secured about one hundred pieces of the laces so much used, in white, cream, corn and butter color, in widths two to ten inches, in value up to fifty cents per yard. The entire line will be on sale at 11 cents per yd. Notice them in the window.
